Preface

Wake Forest harbors a traditional spirit of friendliness. Newcomers are warmly welcomed. The students at Wake Forest are united in their aim—education—and it is the spirit of friendliness that binds them in this aim, making their stay here enjoyable as well as rewarding.

This handbook is written for the students by the students, represented by the Student Government Association. It is designed to inform the freshmen of the various undergraduate activities and organizations in which they may participate. The purposes, requirements for admission, and, in some cases the constitutions of these organizations are herein set forth to enable students to decide in what channel they can best pursue their interests, broaden their knowledge, and increase the number of their friends.

Admission to Wake Forest is a privilege. The enrollment is larger than ever before, and many wishing to attend could not be accepted because of the lack of housing facilities. Students should realize that every effort is being made to make their living conditions as comfortable as possible, and students should also be aware that they can best aid the efforts of the authorities in his endeavor by cooperation and consideration.

The opportunities of education, participation in extra-curricular activities, and warm friendship are offered to students at Wake Forest. A well-rounded, interesting life is open to those who seize their opportunities and exercise their privileges as Wake Forest students.

Lamar Caudle, President of the Student Body.

Student Government

For over half a century Wake Forest undergraduates have, in a large measure, governed themselves. The Student Government, student-organized, -elected, and -operated, serves to "handle all matters of student conduct, honor, and general student interest, and to promote in campus life self-control, personal responsibility, and loyalty to the college and student body."

The Student Government includes two chief agencies:

The Student Council, consisting of nineteen members, including the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the student body, governs all student conduct and reports its decisions to the Dean of the College. The officers and members of this year's Student Council are:

Lamar Caudle, President of the Student Body
Grady Friday, Vice-President of the Student Body
Vivian Snuggs, Secretary of the Student Body
James Patton, Treasurer of the Student Body

Senior Class Representatives

John Gibson
Joseph Miller
Ralph Williams
Gerald S. Grose
William Bethune
Bob Drake

Junior Class Representatives

Edgar Christman
B. T. Henderson
Robert Crouch

Sophomore Class Representative

Kenneth K. Bridges

Law School Representatives

Earle R. Purser

Leroy Robinson

Women's Division Representatives

Vivian Hiers

Harriet Smith

The Student Legislature, composed of thirteen members, reviews in detail the Constitution and proposes to the student body amendments or revisions which it considers necessary.

The Honor System

Student life at Wake Forest is, in a large measure, directed by the spirit of the Honor System, under which all tests and examinations are conducted. The Student Government itself, your means of self-government, is the product of the efforts of the students themselves to regulate the matter of ethical conduct.

Fundamentally, the Honor System is based on the assumption that every student is a gentleman unless he should prove himself otherwise.

The presence of proctors in the examination room is dispensed with; the professors remain only long enough to answer any questions; the students are left alone, on their honor. At the conclusion of any examination or any other pledge work the following statement must be made and signed:

"I have neither given nor received any aid on this work,

nor have I seen anyone doing so"

The Honor System binds each student in three ways:

1. No student shall give any aid on any pledge
2. No student shall receive any aid on any pledge work.
3. It is the duty of each student to report to the Student Council any case of a violation or an attempted violation of the Honor pledge.

The Honor System is administred by the Student Council, a procedure recognized by the College administration.

As stated in Article XII, Section 2 of the Constitution of the Student Body, the penalty for cheating or attempting to cheat is not explusion for the first offense. The convicted student is placed on probation, failed in the course in which he violated his pledge, and his parents or guardians are notified of the action of the Student Council. The penalty for the second offense is expulsion.

Upon entering Wake Forest each student is required to become familiar with the requirements and procedure of the Honor System and is extended the opportunity of signing a statement that he will respect and fulfill the provisions of the Honor System. Having done so, he is on his honor for the remainder of his career at Wake Forest.

The Honor System will be explained to you more fully as a part of your orientation program.

Respect the Honor System. As you do, you will make Wake Forest a better place and your stay here more worth-while.

Students of the Woman's Division are expected as responsible, mature members of the College community to conduct themselves at all times so that their actions will not reflect unfavorably either upon themselves or upon the College.

UNDERGRADUATE ACTIVITIES

Although formal study should be the student's chief interest, the College encourages the freshman to participate in some extra-curricular activities, for the balance between curricular and extra-curricular interests is an essential part of every student's orientation to college life. There is a sufficient variety of undergraduate organizations to provide each man and woman the opportunity to express almost every kind of taste and ability. Below is a brief summary of the undergraduate activities. Look them over carefully, go out for the ones for which you find yourself best adapted, and stick to them. Avoid scattering your endeavors. Participation in too many activities may prevent efficiency in any.

Athletics—

The College provides a full athletic program for all students. The Director of Athletics has general supervision of all athletic activities.

Emphasis is placed on outdoor sports, and every student is urged to spend some part of the day in vigorous open-air exercise. For this purpose there are ample athletic fields, tennis courts, and a nine-hole golf course. During the past year new facilities have been added. The golf course has been improved considerably and five new tennis courts will be available in the fall of 1949. The gymnasium provides for indoor sports. Freshmen are required to take physical education in classes.

In intercollegiate athletics, Wake Forest is strongly represented in the Southern Conference by varsity teams in football, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, and track. Although seldom champions, the Demon Deacons win their share of conference and inter-sectional contests.

Under the direction of the Director of Intramural Sports and the Intramural Athletic Council, social and residential units engage in contests throughout the college year. The sports are touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball, track, tennis, golf, and table tennis. A system has been arranged whereby the top teams of each sport are given a certain number of points toward an all-sports trophy, which goes to the group having the highest aggregate score for all contests.

Student managers of the various sports receive award keys, and the senior manager receives a monogram.

The Women's Athletic Association, working with the Instructor of Physical Education for Women, sponsors a recreational program which includes the following sports: soccer, speedball, volleyball, field hockey, basketball, softball, golf, tennis, archery, badminton, horseshoes, and table tennis. There is a point system for individual awards.

The physical education department plans to sponsor several "fun-nights" during the year, at which time there will be ping pong, square dancing, and other forms of entertainment. All students are invited to attend.

Publications—

The literary and journalistic pursuits of students find expression in three fine undergraduate publications. Publications Row in the Student Center is by far the busiest center of activity on the campus. Long after everyone else is in bed, sleepy aspiring writers tap and peck on their typewriters to beat a deadline. But the time is well spent, for the reward in journalistic and business experience—and fun—is generous and long-lasting.

The student publications at Wake Forest are the Old Gold and Black, The Student, and The Howler.

The Old Gold and Black, the weekly newspaper, is one of the leading collegiate newspapers in the South. The organ of student opinion, it serves as an official bulletin for college affairs. Working for the OG&B is one of the best ways of getting acquainted with campus life and offers a practical experience in journalistic writing and business on a near-professional basis.

The Student, now a literary and humorous magazine published six times a year, devotes its columns to the best writing and cartoons of the campus. Like the other publications, its management is in the hands of a student staff.

The Howler, by its nature the most ambitious campus publication, is a semi-official summary of each college year. Appearing in May, The Howler makes an excellent reference volume.

Publications are governed by the student-faculty Publications Board, whose most important function is the election of editors and business managers.

Radio—

Station WFDD, "The Voice of Wake Forest," is the students' radio station, broadcasting in the afternoon and evening, thirty-five hours a week, items of campus interest including programs of music, sports, news events, drama, and interviews. An affiliate of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, WFDD offers valuable radio experience to those interested.

Forensics—

Wake Forest has for many years enjoyed a position of national prominence in forensics. The Debate Squad has made an impressive record in state, regional, and national invitational tournaments. The College speakers make frequent trips to take part in debates, after-dinner and oratorical contests, and other forms of competitive speaking.

Members of the Debate Squad are chosen each fall. All undergraduates in good standing are eligible to participate in forensics and to represent the College in inter-collegiate competition. Those persons interested are urged to try out for the debate team early during the fall. When one has participated in several rounds of competition he becomes eligible for membership in Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity.

The Philomathesian and the Euzelian Literary Societies, the two oldest campus organizations, deserve in a large measure credit for the wide reputation Wake Forest men have as good speakers. Meeting weekly in their respective halls in Wait Hall, these groups are regarded as important aids in the work of education, in cultivating and directing the taste for reading and in the formation of correct habits of public speaking.

Society Day, in the Fall, and Founder's Day, in February, are jointly-observed annual celebrations in which representatives of the literary societies engage in forensic competition.

Musical Activities—

Several musical organizations provide ample opportunity for the exercise of musical talents and for the social benefits which result from the association of students with common artistic interests in the field of music.

The musical interests of the College are represented by a number of groups, including the Glee Club, of seventy-five mixed voices, the A Capella Choir, of forty mixed voices, the Male Octet and Quartet, the Girls' Sextet, the Little Symphony Orchestra, and the College Band. All groups are a source of entertainment for the student body.

The vocal units present frequent concerts on the campus and take several short trips to neighboring towns during the year. In the Spring the A Cappella Choir makes a more extensive tour, performing in churches and educational centers throughout the State. The entire Glee Club joins with the Orchestra for the annual performance of Handel's Messiah at Christmas-time. The colorful College Band furnishes music for football games, pep rallies, and other special occasions. Tryouts for freshmen and others are held immediately after the opening of College in the fall.

Each Spring an All-Campus Sing is held, with most College organizations participating for awards.

On fair evenings and Sunday afternoons record concerts are presented over the loud-speaker system in Wait Hall Tower.

A limited number of undergraduates are permitted membership in the Raleigh Civic Music Association for a nominal fee. The association sponsors a series of six concerts by outstanding musicians, held in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium.

Dramatics—

The Wake Forest Little Theater, the College dramatic club, is one of the youngest, yet most active organizations on the campus. Their program extends throughout the college year and includes three or four major stage productions and radio dramas for the entertainment and cultural benefit of the College community, as well as several minor shows for the pleasure and advantage of the players themselves.

The Little Theater conducts student tryouts at the beginning of the college year and holds additional trials before each production. There are positions for those interested primarily in production or business sides of dramatics. Little Theater work, under Faculty supervision, offers experience in production, acting, and management.

Membership in the Little Theater is on the basis of a point system. When one has earned a sufficient number of points he becomes eligible for membership in Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity.

The biggest dramatic and musical event of the college year is the annual week-long Magnolia Festival, sponsored by the Little Theater, the Music Department, and the Department of Physical Education for Women. On the first Saturday in May, May Day exercises are held in Groves Stadium. On Sunday the A Capella Choir gives a sacred concert, on Thursday the Little Theater sponsors a play, on Friday the Little Theater and Music Department present a musical comedy; the week's activities conclude on Saturday with a Band concert and the All-Campus Sing.

Civic Groups—

Wake Forest has an International Relations Club whose purpose is to promote interest in, and discussion of, international affairs. During the course of the year the club and its guests hear numerous talks, forums, and addresses by students, faculty members, and authorities of national and international reknown. The IRC also participates in several inter-collegiate conferences.

Although there are academic requirements to membership, the club invites the entire student body to many of its meetings.

Last year there was founded on the campus the Robert Lee Humber Chapter of the United World Federalists. Believing that "world peace can be created and maintained only under a world federal government with limited powers adequate to prevent war," the Wake Forest branch of UWF conducts an active campaign for converts. Membership is open to all undergraduates.

Scholastic Clubs—

Some of the most profitable of the student organizations are related to the fields of interest represented by the departments of instruction: the Mathematics Club, the Physical Education Club, and the Religious Education Club. For the most part they are limited to upperclassmen who major in the field.

Religious—

Student religious activities are directed by the Baptist Student Union aided by a newly organized Chaplain's Committee which is composed of representatives of the various religious groups on the campus. Their purpose is to help undergraduates find the place of religion in life and of fostering closer relations among the religious organizations of all denominations on the campus. Although B.S.U. is open to all students there are opportunities for worship and fellowship for students of other religious beliefs, namely, the Methodist Student Fellowship, the Westminster Fellowship for Presbyterians, and the Canterbury Club for Episcopalians. In addition to the local Baptist Church, there are Methodist and Catholic churches which conduct regular services.

The BSU includes a number of unit organizations, each of which performs a significant function. The Cullom Ministerial Conference provides an opportunity for fellowship and instruction for ministerial students. The Young Women's Auxiliary makes a variety of important contributions to the life of the College, including a program of community missions. The Baptist Training Union presents programs of meditation, inspiration, and education. The Christian Service Group aims "to promote Christian missionary activities on the campus and in the community." The Religious Education Club affords an opportunity to study aspects and problems of that profession. The Sunday School holds worship services and classes of informal instruction.

The BSU works in a variety of fields: it assists in the freshman orientation program; it conducts a popular Religious Focus Week; it holds daily prayer and vesper services; it sponsors week-end socials; it furnishes undergraduate speakers for neighboring churches; and it performs numerous other day-to-day services.

FRATERNITIES

Wake Forest's twelve Greek-letter fraternities, ten of them social, two of them professional, play an important part in student life. These groups take the lead in providing social entertainment for the campus, beginning with "rushing" in the fall and continuing through a series of dances and house parties in the spring.

Among the innumerable choices that confront the freshman and, because of future commitments, call for all the good judgment which he may possess, are the choices regarding fraternities. Shall he accept an invitation to join a fraternity if invited? Which shall he join if several invitations are received? Don't make a hasty decision; it's an important one.

The student population is nearly equally divided between fraternity and non-fraternity men so that whether a man joins a fraternity or not he is in good company. Among all, the first loyalty is to the College.

The two law fraternities are profesional in nature and their membership is limited exclusively to students of the law.

Rules governing the conduct of fraternity affairs and plans for intra-fraternity activities are drawn up and administered by the Intra-Fraternity Council, consisting of representatives of all the fraternities. A faculty Committee on Fraternities works in conjunction with the Intra-Fraternity Council for the purpose of maintaining a high standard of conduct and scholarship.

The Social Fraternities in order of seniority on the campus are:

Kappa Alpha
Lambda Chi Alpha
Sigma Pi
Kappa Sigma
Delta Sigma Phi
Pi Kappa Alpha
Sigma Phi Epsilon
Alpha Sigma Phi
Theta Chi
Sigma Chi

Law Fraternities

Phi Alpha Delta
Phi Delta Phi

HONORARY SOCIETIES

As a reward for outstanding achievement and contributions in both curricular and extra-curricular activities, and as a means of providing greater opportunities for continued service to the College, and for personal benefit, there have been established at Wake Forest a number of honorary societies. Some are mere honors; for others work, fellowship, and intellectual growth are the chief aims.

Phi Beta Kappa

Membership to Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's leading scholastic fraternity, is awarded on the basis of outstanding scholarship and character. Each year it initiates ten percent or less of students who have completed seven semesters of work toward a baccalaureate degree.

Omicron Delta Kappa

ODK is an intercollegiate honor society which has as its purpose the recognition of "intelligent, democratic leadership among college men." Members are elected semi-annually on the basis of character and eminence in one or more of these five phases of campus life: "scholarship, athletics, social and religious activities, publications, and forensic, dramatic, musical, and other cultural activities."

Tassels

Tassels is a local honor society for women, with standards and purposes similar to those of ODK. It taps for membership women students who have shown qualities of campus leadership, character, scholarship, and service to the college.

Who's Who

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities is an annual publication of the University of Alabama which recognizes undergraduates who stand out because of character, scholarship, campus leadership and potentiality for future usefulness to society. Membership is purely an honor.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club, Wake Forest's honorary athletic organization, seeks to encourage a fraternal spirit among the athletes, to further good sportsmanship among the student body, and to develop better relationships between the College and the schools it meets in the field of sports.

Alpha Psi Omega

Theta Omega Cast is the local chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary drama society, which recognizes students who have distinguished themselves in campus dramatics. Membership is on a point basis; points are awarded for activity in any of the several phases of production work.

Pi Kappa Delta

Wake Forest boasts one of the leading chapters of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity. Its purpose is to promote the interests of intercollegiate public speaking by conferring upon deserving students a badge of recognition.

Sigma Pi Alpha

Sigma Pi Alpha, honorary modern language society, proposes, through discussions by members of the group and professor of the modern language department, to stimulate an interest in the culture and languages of the French-, German-, and Spanish-speaking nations. Those who have an average of "B" on not less than twelve hours of department work are invited to membership.

Eta Sigma Phi

Eta Sigma phi is a national honorary classical language society which aims to develop and promote interest in the classical studies and to increase the students' knowledge of the art and literature of ancient Greece and Rome. Students with "B" averages in twelve hours of Greek and Latin are eligible for membership.

Gamma Sigma Epsilon

Founded to bring together students interested in a serious study of chemistry, Wake Forest's chapter of Gamma Sigma Epsilon, national honorary chemical fraternity, carries on its work by discussing aspects of recent chemical research and hearing lectures by outstanding chemists. Membership is by invitation.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

Newly chartered at Wake Forest is a chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medical society. It seeks to encourage high scholarship, to bind similarly interested students, and to bridge the gap between the spirit of pre-medical school and that of the school of medicine. There are academic requirements to admission.

Physics Club

The Physics Club was founded in 1946 by a group of students of advanced physics who sought to recognize distinguished scholarship and promise of achievement in that field, to encourage a professional spirit among physics students and to popularize interest in physics in the general collegiate public. Membership is by invitation.

Beta Beta Beta

Also recently instituted at Wake Forest is a chapter of Tri-Beta, national honorary biological fraternity which provides a means of undergraduate recognition for the biological sciences. The society seeks to foster high academic standards, to promote interest in biology, and to further the objectives of this science. Membership is dependent upon scholastic and character qualifications.

Delta Kappa Alpha

Delta Kappa Alpha, honorary ministerial fraternity, was organized at Wake Forest to provide fellowship for ministerial students, to elevate their ideals and scholarship, and to offer an opportunity to consider professional problems. Membership is by invitation.

Phi Delta Omega

An honorary pre-legal fraternity, Phi Delta Omega has as its intention aid in preparing students who plan to enter law school, and fellowship for those having the same professional interest. The future lawyers frequently hear talks by members of the Law School faculty. Membership is by invitation.

International Relations Club

Mentioned above as a civic organization designed to promote interest in international affairs, IRC also serves as a means of rewarding students who have demonstrated a marked interest and proficiency in the study of social sciences. Membership is open to all students who maintain the standard required by the College for graduation.

Delta Sigma Phi

Recently chartered at Wake Forest is a chapter of Delta Sigma Phi, national honorary business administration fraternity. Beta Tau, the local chapter, seeks to encourage high scholarship in the preparation for the great industries of the business world. Membership is by invitation.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

The Physical Education Club at Wake Forest in 1949 was granted a national charter to Phi Epsilon Kappa, national physical education fraternity. The major goal is the advancement of the profession by elevating the standards, ideals, and ethics of those persons engaged in teaching health, physical education, and recreation. Membership is dependent upon academic requirements for those persons majoring in physical education and health.

COLLEGE SONGS

One of the first requirements of the freshmen is to learn the College songs. They are sung frequently, not only at athletic contests and special meetings, but wherever a group of Wake Forest students get together. These songs have been sung by Wake Forest men for so many years that they are an integral part of the College life.

Dear Old Wake Forest

Dear old Wake Forest!
Thine is a noble name;
Thine is a glorious fame,
Constant and true.
We give thee of our praise,
Adore thine ancient days,
Sing thee our humble lays,
Mother, so dear.

Dear old Wake Forest!
Mystic thy name to cheer;
Be thou our guardian near,
For'er and aye.
We bow before thy shrine,
Thy brow that lays entwine,
All honor now be thine,
Mother, today.

Here's to Wake Forest

- Oh, here's to Wake Forest, a glass of the finest
Red, ruddy Rhenish filled up to the brim!
Her sons they are many, unrivaled by any;
With hearts o'erflowing we will sing her hymn.

(Chorus)

Rah, Rah, Wake Forest, Rah!
Old Alma Mater's sons we are;
We'll herald her story and die for her glory
Old Gold and Black is ever waving high.

As frosh we adore her, as sophs we explore her,
And carve our names upon her ancient walls;
As juniors patrol her, as seniors extol her,
And weep to leave for'er her sacred halls.

(Chorus)

Though fortune forsake us and fate o'ertake us,
We'll ne'er forget our dear old college days,
And o'er memory's treasure we'll drink without measure,
And sing for'er our Alma Mater's praise.

(Chorus)

Gentle Mother

Words by

Charles P. Weaver, '06

Music by

Hubert McNeil Poteat, '04

Old Wake Forest, gentle Mother,
We thy children, joyful sing;
Join our voices with each other,
Praises today to thee we bring;
Though we hail from headlands, mountains,
Though of many creeds we be,
Though we've drunk from many fountains,
We are one in love to thee;
Ever onward, ever upward,
Lead us gently by the hand,
Ever, gentle Mother, onward,
Lead us still, thy loyal band.

Alma Mater, we invoke thee,
Let us see thy shining face;
Let us feel, we now implore thee,
All thy true, enduring grace;
With thy wisdom, gentle Mother,
Give us eyes that we may see
Truth our goal, our sacred duty,
Truth alone can make us free.
On thy banner ever glorious
Truth forever shall appear,
Crown thy children's hopes victorious
With the love that casts out fear.

MISCELLANEOUS

Chapel Attendance—

All undergraduates are required to attend chapel services on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings. The chapel committee decides on penalties for non-attendance. Ten or more unexcused absences from chapel during a semester render a student ineligible for registration the next semester. Absence excuses must be filed with the chapel committee.

Campus Beautification—

The campus has long been noted for its beauty. Recently the Rho chapter of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological fraternity, along with its faculty adviser and the Building and Grounds committee of the college, undertook a project of further beautification of the campus. Much has already been done along this line, and plans have been made for further improvements. Students are urged to cooperate in the program.

Absences—

All students of all classes are allowed one cut for each semester hour. A three-hour course, for instance, entitles one to three cuts in that class. One quality point will be deducted for each excessive unexcused absence. Students who take all their cuts for their own convenience may be penalized in the event emergencies necessitate further absences. In order to have a cut excused, the student must go to the Dean's office and fill out the regular form, on which the student must give a full explanation of his absence.

Transcripts—

A student is entitled to one transcript without charge. Each additional one is issued at a cost of $1.00. A transcript issued to the Bowman Gray School of Medicine carries no charge.

In case a transcript is issued during the course of a semester, the final grades for that semester are not automatically furnished the other institution unless the student requests that this be done.

Dropping Classes—

If a student registers for a course, he is expected to attend the course unless he makes an official change with the registrar. If a course in which the student is failing is dropped after mid-term, the grade for the course will go down as "F." A course which is dropped unofficially at any time goes down as "F."

Art Museum—

Wake Forest College is extremely fortunate in having on its campus one of the best collections of art in the South. This collection was given by Dr. Thomas Jackson Simmons, alumnus of Wake Forest.

The Simmons Art Museum, on the first floor of the Johnson Building, is open each Sunday afternoon from 3 till 5 o'clock. Prof. A. L. Aycock, curator, is present to point out the items of interest.

The Infirmary—

All matters pertaining to student health and hygiene are under the supervision of the staff of the College infirmary which operates day and night for the convenience of students who require medical attention. The two College physicians visit the Infirmary daily at 10:30 a.m. for consultations. Nurses and internes are on duty at all times.

Routine medical care is given without charge. However, one who is confined to the Infirmary is charged $1.50 a day for bed and board and is charged for special surgeon or nurse in case such services are required.
